OfficialDCShepard 11:35 AM
I've sent an email to both you and the main UTC contact email so that we can work that sort of thing out and so you can explicate sources and your perspective to us. Like for instance I didn't have enough time while dealing with COVID to read the extensive sources you gave me so I'm thinking that throughout you can be both our guide into the Bayan and the injustices suffered by Azalis at the hands of Baha'is during the split.

WahidAzal556 11:53 AM
Got the email. No worries at all.

The other possibility Rami has been floating is that you and I just do it, with your tech stack. I'm leaning towards not changing our plans so drastically at the last minute, and towards trying it with all of us on Sunday and moving to this Wednesday if it ends up being bad

However I can see the benefits of a one on one discussion, have also added your interview with, and will probably need to make a decision either way by tomorrow as projec director here, as someone just inquired about the status of the show...

On r/exbahai u/Bahamut19 accuses me of not following the laws of the Bayan by having a long beard, and then makes up a totally inaccurate quote from the Bayan without chapter and verse claiming it to be so. Dale Husband - who I consider to be an uncover Baha'i working for the Bahai Internet Agency while pretending to be an atheist and UU member - calls me a Satanist because I exposed him as a fraud and a child-grooming deviant (and possible pedophile) back in 2020. Be careful who you associate with it too closely. In this war, not all as it seems and the Baha'is have gatekeepers at every door pretending to many things, esp. here on reddit.

I agree about Bahamut's quote being weird...meanwhile as to Dale I'm not close enough with him for it to matter except where we can collaborate on r/exbahai to fight a common enemy

So I don't want to get in the middle of that drama

OfficialDCShepard 3:57 PM
I'll try to keep you both from attacking each other for the sake of this show, and this being our moment to strike

To that end I finished editing the video after two days of work and now need help with sources

OfficialDCShepard 4:18 PM
Also how would you like to receive the final video?

WahidAzal556 4:28 PM
Just upload it on a server somewhere like how Rami did on Mega (or similar) and send me the link. Google docs would work too, depending on the size of the file.

OfficialDCShepard 4:51 PM
Apparently the link Rami sent from MEGA didn't work last time. But I suppose I'll try that way this time then Google if that doesn't work

You should also see your source asks in orange on the updated Google Doc. I'll upload mine ASAP in MLA format as that's the most commonly used way in the US for historical papers

WahidAzal556 5:17 PM
Sounds good. Just remember, Youtube has placed limits on the number of boxes one can put into the description box. So as long as all items go into a single place, one single [illegible] should be fine where everyone can access whatever they need accessing. That means, you can just create a page or blog and put all the links in it

Oh yeah I do, but I just want to make sure that I know which sources line up with which claim and that they're cited in MLA 8/9

Like for instance

Translator(s) name, translator. Title of the book.By Author(s) name, Publisher, Year of publication.

For translated works

Like I could imagine you citing yourself and your translation of the Bayan in places

But yeah let me compare from the other document

OfficialDCShepard 11:03 AM
Also you should have gotten the link to the video now, and once you download maybe you can rewatch to try to compare the chapter in which you stated something to the source. I'll also read the original sources where I can.

1. My Invoking the Seven Worlds paper which offers a short critical biography of Subh-i-Azal and the translation of one of his prayers.

2. My translation of one of Baha'ullah's late tablets where he literally contradicts the entire basis of his claim.

3. My Organizational Hierarchy paper that expands on some of the themes in #1.

4. The first issue of Studies in the Bayan.

5. Jalal Azal's extensive The Religion of the Bayan and the claims of the Baha'is.

Read more

I also need links for some of these to feed into the citation system.

Well maybe I'm still figuring it out. Should have my version uploaded tonight or tomorrow. I hope

I couldn't find the quote about Zionist settlers

So I chose this letter about the agreement between Israel and the UHJ

https://www.bahai.org/library/authoritative-texts/the-universal-house-of-justice/messages/19870430_001/19870430_001.pdf

But that's from 1987 and I'm trying to recall your source

I also remember reading somewhere about expelling

WahidAzal556 6:47 PM
"The attitude of the Bahá'í leaders to Judaism also impressed many Jews. In 1891, Bahá'u'lláh wrote directly to Baron Rothschild, announcing to him the imminent return of the Jews to the Land of Israel. This idea remained constant in the messages to the Jews both in Iran and the United States that were delivered by ʿAbdu'l-Bahá during his visit there in 1912. In a letter, which ʿAbdu'l-Bahá wrote to the Jews in Iran in 1897, he did not leave any room for ambiguity about the messianic aspects which placed the Bahá'í faith in the heart of Judaism. This intimate relation between the two religions was emphasized even more by the fact that all the most important Bahá'í holy sites were located in the Land of Israel. (Faü 2004:267)" ~ Moshe Sharon, The Hebrew University in Jerusalem: https://archive.org/details/MosheShaonJewishConversionToTheBahaiFaith.

I was just enjoying a video game with a friend and then this BS happens

The thing is it's been a multi front war alone for a while

WahidAzal556 3:41 PM
Look, I have been at this with these people for 30 years.

Well, now I am here, and potentially we will have others joining us. Don't give up.

And Australia won't just take a random transgender American who's been in government service for 10 years as a refugee so I'd need a job

I was actually replying to you about the first suggestion of it haha

I'm thinking maybe Ireland

OfficialDCShepard 3:47 PM
Basically what I'm suggesting is a manual for a new civilization that rises out of the trash

The thing is that nothing is ever truly destroyed it just becomes something else

I don't know with what technology (maybe philic bacteria?) but eventually we have to return all this garbage to the earth

And build something new from it

My recommendations here applying to a post-Fall civilization

But for now I have to focus on my rebuttal

I'm trying to not just respond "YOURE A FUCKING IDIOT WHO DOESNT UNDERSTAND PARALLELS"

But my style is usually to cut my opponents to the bone while still acknowledging their humanity

WahidAzal556 3:55 PM
Humans, yes. Those bahais in my diction are demons. As the quote says

Humans, yes. These bahais in my diction are demons. As the quote says,
...There is no conscience with them [i.e. the Baha'is], they keep to no principle, they tell you what is untrue, ignoring or denying undoubted historical facts, and this is the character of both the leader and the led...As to morality and honesty, the whole system has proved disappointing...I have been in contact with many Baha'is, and have had dealings with many and have tested many, and unfortunately I have met not a single one who could be called honest or faithful in the full sense of these words...

Saeed Khan Kurdistani, from Mission Problems in New Persia, 1926, p. 83, 87 and 89 quoted by William McElwee Miller in The Baha'i Faith: It's History and Teachings, 1973, p. 289.

For instance I spent an hour looking for an English translation of the 11th Unity of the 9th Gate as adrenaline and Diet Coke were fueling me

OfficialDCShepard 4:19 PM
Could not find them at all

My brain can be kind of made of iron at times which is both good for resisting pain and bad for ignoring my body

It's not that your source was bad but the sourcing for anything Baha'i is disorganized, often boring to read through when it's official sources, if it's not suppressed

The sourcing was fine. They are quibbling thinking you will cave in to them. The fact is they are dealing with me who has buried them time and again.

But I have to say, Dale Husband's behavior is extremely duplicitous on that thread. SuccessfulCorner is merely expressing butthurt while Dale is being his two-faced self.

Dealing with me who will not give those motherfuckers a single quarter.

OfficialDCShepard 7:15 PM
Again, I don't really see what you mean by duplicitous behavior, as all I saw was an attempt to rescue and bring to Reddit, which was helpful to me, a comment to facilitate open and fair debate.

I hope my response was a sufficient nuking of Bahamut from orbit

Again, I don't really see what you mean by duplicitous behavior, as all I saw was an attempt to rescue and bring to Reddit, which was helpful to me, a comment to facilitate open and fair debate.

I hope my response was a sufficient nuking of Bahamut from orbit

Like there are definitely some comments of yours or other people's that didn't show on previous videos unless I clicked on something

WahidAzal556 8:16 AM
The comments may have to be approved by you. Check

You should post your video on the pro Lively sub :
https://www.reddit.com/r/BaldoniFiles/

I did not listen to the whole video, just the beginning where you timestamped to Baldoni and Lively. The person you are talking to, should have explained which landmines Baldoni will put for Lively's lawyers. He said he wants to contact her lawyer Mr. Gottlieb, his contact is at the end of her lawsuit :

If he does not want to write an email, there is a contact form on their website :www.willkie.com

It is very important to help them because it's a disaster for Lively and abused women in general. The amount of suffering that Baldoni is generating has to be stopped...

It's not about backing away it's about not giving in to what our enemies think we are

WahidAzal556 4:48 PM
I am trying to change my enemy's mind. I want to bury him because this enemy's mind cannot be changed. In fact, for them to think me dangerous, is actually a good thing.

And what's with this Manifestation stuff

People are gonna think I'm crazy

WahidAzal556 4:49 PM
Like I said, you fight fire with fire. What is the ultimate sin among bahais? Covenant breaking. I have taken their covenant and eviscerated it.

And as far as I am concerned, the whole universe is the Manifestation of God, not just a single person.

For the meeting on Wednesday at 5:30 my time, I was thinking that, while yes I do disapprove of what you said and may reiterate that, it should be more about discussing how to better coordinate external communications surrounding The Hidden Faith going forward as well as brainstorming for future episodes including, for instance, what better sources might be out there if we're really going to claim Baha'ullah killed people...

Mar 10

WahidAzal556 2:56 PM
I don't think I have the time or inclination to do any more with The Hidden Faith, since I am busy up to my eyeballs with other things. However, a comrade of mine - who is not on reddit - says he would be instead: Matt Douglas. Let me know, and I'll forward your email to him.

That works well for me! Thank you for letting me know, and I'll always consider you a friend and hope to visit you in Australia someday. I'll be sure to let Rami know what's up and ask when Mr. Douglas would be open to meeting with the two of us to brainstorm ideas. I'll also give you a production credit with the ideas for the future episodes Gangs of Abha and The Fourth Religion of Palestine that I listed as we did brainstorm together on these subjects and that's only fair. Plus, the offer to discuss Byzantine and Islamic history to[illegible] at some point when you're a bit more free stands, since I had an amazing time working with you when I did and you're a very knowledgeable person about Islamic history th[illegible] really opened my eyes.

Please know that despite my initial reactions there are no hard feelings from me.

Would you care to explain more about Mr. Douglas's background?

Also perhaps this is obvious but you can keep your copy of the video up. Even if someone calls me out down the road for working with you.

Would you be more available in like...June for the Byzantine/Islamic episode?

OfficialDCShepard 4:42 AM
Maybe July since I've got an LGBTQ episode of The Hidden Faith for June

Any chance you can help me find work and or asylum in Australia. Now that I'm engaged I need stability and perhaps working for your organization as a researcher could be a good use of my talents.

On what basis do you claim that the information about the Baha'i murder of Azalis is spotty while slurring me on exbahai as "controversial"?
You didn't do your reading and then parrot Baha'i lines.

I tend to like to have more than one source for an accusation, and the historian in me can't help but caveat that. I find the murder accusations credible and stand by what we said on the podcast, but the Baha'is destroyed or are holding onto the majority of Bayani documents that would expose their crimes. So the most I can say is that there's smoke there but we don't have the gun yet.

WahidAzal556 7:10 AM
You're not a historian. You have not consulted any primary sources because you have no access to the original source languages. We have all the Bayani sources. What made you believe otherwise?

Then why weren't more presented on the podcast? That's all I'm saying

Plus I was convinced by the source you explicated after I read it myself and but you linked no other corroborating evidence to my knowledge. If that was in error I can correct the bibliography

Hopefully you can help me find sources about Baha'ullah's 15 year old concubine?

This is your only warning, asshole. I demand that you take down your copy of The Hidden Faith, but I'm going to expose you either way as the deluded sociopath you are and am in the process of sending our entire chat logs to Chris Bennett. Come at me in your ridiculous little YouTube echo chamber if you want- History Flights Productions will crush you!
